SECRETARY ROOT TO VISIT PHILIPPINES

He Will Probably Leave Washington During the Summer.

TO STUDY NEEDS OF THE ISLANDS

Anxious to Get Their Affairs Out of War Department.

POSITION NOW IS DUAL

Military Fenture Is So Interwoven With the Civil That the Two Cannot Be Divided.

Secretary Root is again considering a trip to the Philippines for the purpose of personally acquainting himself with conditions there. He has long desired to visit the islands, and would probably have gone early last fall had not the enormous gone early last fall had not the enormous according to the Secretary than the state of the s trip to the Philippines for the purpose of amount of work before the War Department prevented. The Secretary would like to go to Manila with Governor Tafe when he returns in May, but does not think it advisable to leave while Congress is in session. The present plans are said to contemplate his going some time in the summer, by which time it is expected that the situation in the Philippines will have so greatly improved that a dual form of government, consisting of civil and military, will no longer be necessary, and it will be turned over entirely to the civil authorities. Mr. Root's Proposed Change,

Secretary Root is anxious to get the insular business out of the War Department, but he believes that no change should be made while conditions exist requiring a dual form of government. At the present time a few of the provinces remain in a hostile state, and they are under the control of the military power.

When the situation warrants, it is intended that all the provinces shall be transferred to the control of the Philippine Commission, and when peace has been fully restored, they can then be taken from the conrol of the War Depart-

In a statement just made by Secretary Root, he says that the universal testi-mony as to what constitutes the most eifective government in which a nation at a distance from the seat of government takes part is that the best, the only safe method is to leave all details of government to local authority. He advocates the adoption of general rules of policy, the establishment of a system of government in the Philippines, the selection of the best men to run the government, and then, Secretary Root says: "Leave it to them to follow the policy and work out the government for the best interests of the people there."

Under One Control.

"The practical working of the Government in these islands since I have been here has led to the conclusion that the more you bring the different officers under one control the better service you get. At present the War Department is a dual concern. It is a War Department and it is equivalent to a colonial department, and we have organized what really is a separate department in the insular di-vision of the War Department, which has had to be made up in characteristic American fashion to meet the exigency, with a chief, assistant chief, a law officer, a force of translators, accountants, and clerks, and which performs on the insular side of the Secretary of War very much what the Adjutant General performs on the military side, Resping the records and accounts, systematizing and regulating and preserving information and doing general staff duties upon all

J. Pope Brown Withdraws From

MANILA'S WAR ON RATS.

Forty Professional Catchers of the Rodent in Government Employ. The report of L. M. Maus, Commissione: of Public Health Physicians, to the Taft Commission, made public yesterday by the War Department, states that since December, 1839, the number of cases of plague in Manila has been 778, resulting in 615 deaths.

During August and September las there were 35 cases, of which 33 proved fatal, as compared with 18 cases during the same months of 1900.

'Great attention is now being paid to the destruction of rats," says the report, which are believed to be the prime cause of the spread of the disease. Three thousand dollars were appropriated by the Commission for catching rats.

"The Board of Health has organized recently a corps of rat catchers, consisting of forty natives who are to divide into pairs and provided with buckets of disinfecting solutions for the collection of dead rats. The corps will be divided up into squads and assigned to the twelve districts of the city and directed to set the ratsbane in certain sections sooner than 9 o'clock of each night and to collect the same the following morning, beginning not earlier than 5 o'clock. Dead rats are at once dropped in 5 per cent solution of carbolic acid, where they remain five minutes tagged with number of house and street, and sent to the bacteriological laboratory for microonical examination.

MEAT TRADE WITH GERMANY.

Consul Albert Reports a Great De erense Since 1898.

Consul Talbot J. Albert reports to the State Department from Brunswick, Ger many, that the imports of American meats into Germany have greatly decreased since they reached their highest point in the year 1898.

Since the German prohibitary law, which went into force on October 1, 1900, the importation of sausage and canned meat has entirely ceased. On the other hand, the imports of bacon and other kinds of port, with the exception of hams, show an increase during the year 1900 and the year 1991.

By a law which was ordered to be put into force April 1, 1902, an official inspection of all imported meat will take place in Germany, and a miccroscopial examination in America will no longer be looked upon as a condition for import That this law will be enforced in April does not seem likely. At the present time the Bundesrath is busy with the details for carrying the law into effect.

Forcedon Consideration of Republican Majority.

CALL FOR CAUCUS TOMORROW

Result of Agitation by Representatives Crumpacker of Indiana. Olarsted of Pennsylvania, Moody of Massachusetts, Dick of Ohio, and a Few Others.

The question of dealing with the dis franchisement of colored voters in Souta ern States has been forced upon the consideration of the Republican majority by the House of Representatives by the call for a caucus to be held Monday night. Had the wishes and opinions of the leaders of the House, such as Messra. Payne, Dalzell, Cannon, and Babcock, been the guiding principle there would be no present adoption of a policy, it is said, or even formal party consideration. But the agitation by Messrs, Crumpacker of Indiana, Olmsted of Pennsylvania, Moody of Massachusetts, Dick of Ohio, and the few Representatives for the Southern and border States resulted in a demand for action that could not be avoided.

Reduction of Representation.

There are five different propositions to deal with the subject pending before the Committee on the Election of President and Vice President and Representatives in Congress. Mr. Crumpacker proposes to reduce representation in Congress as follows: Alabana, from 9 to 6; Florida, 3 to 2; Louisiana, 8 to 5; Mississippi, 7 to 5. North Carolina, 10 to 7; South Carolina, 7 to 5—a total of 14. He says these reductions ductions have been calculated upon fig-ures furnished by the Director of the Cen-sus showing, he ascerts, with mathemati-cal certainty, the extent of the working in the States named of laws intended to disfranchise colored voters.

Louisiana Law Operation. Mr. Moody asks an investigation of the operation of the Louisiana laws in the election of Representatives in Congress, and if it be found that they deprive citizens of the right of suffrage, or abridge it, in violation of the Constitution and the amendments thereof, the committee shall report whether or not legislation should be enacted to deprive the State of its representation in the House. Mr. Dick's Proposition General.

Mr. Dick's proposition in general, directing an investigation and report of what, if any, proportion of the number of male citizens twenty-one years of age, in any State, to whom said State denies or abridges the right to vote as aforesaid, except, for participation in rebellion or other crime, bears to the total num-ber of male inhabitants of such State, be-ing twanty-one years of age and citizens of the United States. GRANDSON OF FORMER MAYOR

Mother Injured Several Months Age in Street Car Accident-Twice Married. His Recollections Are Tinged With Deep Sorrow and Remorse,

Back in the early fifties Mr. John A. Maury was mayor of Washington. Now his grandson, Fontaine Maury, aged thirty-five and seemingly a nervous wreck, is held at No. 1 police station as an insane suspect. His relatives will take steps today for his safety and comfort.

Since he was a fireman employed at the Postoffice Department, some two years ago, Fentaine Maury has led an uncertain existence. He has beet as a wanderer, without a permanent horse and with few real friends. Out of work, his health impaired, his mather an invalid, and other relatives scattered, Maury has traveled to the verge of misery,

But One True Friend.

Of those he has known for the past few months Mr. H. M. Singleton, of Eleventh and E Streets, helped him along, until Maury gave evidence of mental trouble. Then Policeman Samson was informed of the case, and Maury was taken into custody. He found his prisoner last night on Ninth Street. At the station Maury gave his name and age, but said he had no per-manent residence. He is of medium stat-ure, with dark hair, a mustache of like hus.

and regular features. He wore a dark suit and soft black hat. The prisoner was slow to answer, and seemed bewildered, when questioned about himself. From his cell he told his story, a most pathetic one. He said he was born in this city, the son of the late Dr. John Maury, father of the relatived circles. Dr. Maury, father of the prisoner, died some years ago. His widow now re-sides here. She was injured several months ago in a street car accident
